ATMIC Coordinator Completes COMSCI Fellowship

Mary Lassanyi, Agricultural Trade and Marketing Information Center (ATMIC) Coordinator, completed a 10-month COMSCI fellowship program and assignment at the Department of Commerce, Technology Administration, International Programs. She returned to the National Agricultural Library, U.S. Department of Agriculture on July 9, 1990.

WAYNE OLSON was designated as the ATMIC, Acting Coordinator during Mary's fellowship activities.

Our special THANKS to Wayne for his services to the agricultural trade and marketing community and other interested users. He deserves many KUDOS for a job well done.

FAS Files Available on ALF

FILES from the High-Value Product Division of the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) Files are now accessible through ALF (Agricultural Library Forum), NAL's Electronic Bulletin Board.

The FAS files, prepared by U.S. agricultural attaches, contain annual marketing plans for forty countries. Karl Schneider, ALF Sysop, uploaded the marketing plans onto ALF.

For further information about using ALF and accessing the FAS files, please call: (301) 344-1204 or write:

ATMIC Offers Subject File

In 1987, we began to develop a subject file on the various aspects of international agricultural trade and marketing. This resource file is located in the ATMIC Office. It is available to interested users, however, the materials must be used on the premises. Users consist of: economists, international trade and programs officers, writers, graduate students from the public and private sectors, foreign embassies, and international organizations.
